HONGKONG, MONDAY, JUNE 2, 1890.

Considerable excitement was caused Chinese circles last week by the announcement in one of the local Chinese news-H.M.S. Rattler, Lieut. Commander J. papers that it was the intention of Li Han Hough, arrived here to-day from Amoy. Chang, the Viceroy of the Two Kwang provinces, to impose an additional tax of 20 Tis, per chest on opium at all the stations · the 5th June, with Mails for the along the Kwang Tung littoral. It appears that some time ago a syndicate of Chinese Settlements, Batavia, Burmah, Ceylon, opium merchants represented to the Vicethe Australasian Colonies, Pondichery, roy that their trade was suffering on account of the large quantity of opium that was being amuggled into the province, and they offered to establish a protective service for the suppression of smuggling and to pay the Vicercy $250,000, if he would allow them to levy an additional tax, called a protective tax, of Ils. 20 per chest on all the opium imported into the province. Having smoothed their way in the approved Chinese fashion, they got at the car of the Viceroy. The Imperial Maritime Customs, however, would not, as may be imagined, hecome a party to such an arrangement; and Li Han Chang was persunded to forward his proposal to Peking and to abide the decision of the Taung Li Yamen. Sir Robert Hart has also been communicated with, and there is not the least reason to doubt what the decision of these parties will be. The Canton Viceroy's proposal could be entertained for one moment with out leading to serious complications. It may therefore be considered as having already received its coup de grace. The only pretext which he could have for favouring such a scheme is the indisputable-fact that a good deal of smuggling does go on from Hongkong and that the recent interpretation of our local Ordinance (based on the Opium Convention), according to which broken chests of opium may be exported if the but the arrangements fell through several total quantity is more than a chest, has greatly times. The sixth defendant provided the increased the facilities for amuggling. The gags, firearms &c. After the robbery the intention of our legislators was of course to money was divided, each of the subordinate Water supply, to secure which we have prevent the export of broken chests; but if members of the gang getting $45. our Ordinance was faulty the Convention was in like manner faulty, for the terms of quality with the best English Makers. Our the Ordinance are but a reproduction of the terms of the Convention. The Hongkong til the existing lease of the Opium Farmer

Government cannot alter its ordinance unexpires, when doubtless the law will be made to conform more fully to the intention of those who drafted the Opium Convention. Meantime the strict letter of the Convention must be carried out, and no such flagrant violation of it as was contemplated by Li Han Chang could be permitted for one moment. The result of entrusting to a syndicate of Chinese merchants the right to levy a tax on foreign opium would lead to innumerable abuses and to daily friction.

THE six men who are charged with atcaling from a house in First Street Taipingshan $400 worth of property-after binding and gagging the inmates, an old woman and a boy-were brought before Mr Robinson in the Police Court to-day. After hearing further evidence, his Worship committed the men for trial at the Criminal Sessions. One of the men told, or pretended to tell, his Worship the whole story. He said the affair originated with the sixth and third defendants. They came to him ten times trying to get him to join the gang and at last he consented. The robbery was arranged as long ago as the second moon,

The body found in the harbour by the police on Saturday, and which from the fact of the throat being cut auggested a case of murder, was afterwards identified as that of a widow of unsound mind. who lived in Tank Lane. From the evidence taken in the course of an inquiry by Mr Wedehouse to-day it appeared that the deceased had frequently attempted to commit suicide and had to be closely watched by her friends. She had contrived to escape from the house on Friday night. Dr Marques stated that the wound in the throat was only a slight one, and the postmortem examination showed that death resulted neither from that cause nor from drowning but from syncope. His Worship's finding was in accordance with the medical evidence.

THE facility with which goods can be obtained on credit in Hongkong, aven by entire strangers, is well known. A very good illustration of the fact occurred the other day, but it was followed by unsually prompt and strong measures apparently with the view of enforcing payment. A stranger went to the Hongkong Hotel and ordered tiffin for a pic-nic party of twenty, and the order was duly carried out. Next day the bill was presented to the stranger at the address given by him, but no money was forthcoming. Then the Hotel people, adopting a plan hardly more efficacious than that of locking the stable after the steed is gone, at once got the stranger fun in'; but the Inspector at the Central Police Station, finding that there was no allegation that the goods had been obtained by fraudulent means, failed to see why 1st June, and may be expected here the man should be detained in the cells. and dismissed the case.

More than six months ago we mentioned

little has been heard of the matter publicly since that time, the discovery has been by no means barren of results. From the investigations carried on under his own direction, Mr Grant Smith has obtained very satisfactory proof of the value of the lode, and the experimental operations have now been aucceeded by work on a larger scale: Assays have been made of specimens of the atone taken from increasing depths, and the result has been increasingly encouraging. Messus Adamson, Bell & Co. inform us The lode was proved to a depth of from eight to ten feet, and the assays, beginning with 3.10 oz. of ellver and a few pounds of lead to the ton, finish with 72 oz of silver and 1,533 lbs. of lead to the ton. Mr Grant Smith confidently expects that with this good result at a depth of eight feet the richness of the lode at a depth of fifty feet which will be reached by the adit now being made, under the superintendence of a mining engineer, will be found to be greatly increased. Although devoting his attention chiefly to this lode, he has taken an opportunity to prospect Kowloon, where he has also been successful in finding syidence of mineral wealth in the form of silver-bearing stone, which extends over a large area. No trial shaft has yet been made there, but the assay of 16? oz. to the ton, which has been obtained, is regarded as a hopeful augury.

THE will of Emin Pacha is on its way to the Stanley and African Exhibition, where it will be on view shortly. It was written when Emin Pasha was taken prisoner by his revolted troops, and he was ordered to be executed. He then made his will. and appointed the Khediye of Egypt and Mr Jephson his executors. The document was witnessed by some of his officers who had remained faithful. Accompanying the will is a letter written by the Mahdi to Emin Pacha. These curiosities have been entrusted to the care of Mr D. de Pinna, who is at present representing the Stanley and African Exhibition at the reception given to Mr Stanley at Brussels. He brings also the flint with which the Emin Pacha Expedition used to obtain light for a year after their stock of matches was exhausted the official flag of the Expedition, and the Khedivial flag with the device. God will make the way for us. - Daily News.

GERMANY'S TEADE WITH THE EAST, - A news agency states :- For many years the trade between the East Indies and Europe has been monopolised by British ports, with the exception of a small proportion of cargo which was carried to Marseilles by the French Messageries Maritimes, and to Antwerp by various lines. A considerable portion of British export trade was therefore composed of transhipments of goods from India for the Continent, especially coffee, lately has become an ardent exponent of tobacco, sugar, drugs, spices, and various subversive doctrines and poles as an active kinds of wool, chiefly via Hamburg. Four tailor's apprentices who were gambling on Saturday night during the absence of their master at Ningpo, apset a lamp and caused the destruction of six houses in Shansi Road, Shanghai, some of which were adjoining the scene of the fire on Friday morning. The bells rang at 11 30 p.m., and in less than ten minutes the flames had reached to the opposite side of the block and defied the efforts of the firemen to extinguish them. All they could do was to prevent the fire aproading to the adjoining houses in Nanking Road. One large building, which was a bathing establishment downstairs with an opium shop over, presented an extraordinary appearance next morning, as the firemen only succeeded in - saving the lower portion, the upper part being a confused mass of charred rafters, furniture and broken tiles. AN IMPORTANT SCHEME. London, May 6 .- An engineer name Titley, an Amorican, advocates a scheme in the Pall Mall Gazette for adding a large superficial space to London by bridging the Thanes from London to Putney, the platform to rest upon tubular tunnels, stretching from shore to shore. About five miles additional space would be added, giving room for new avenues, an electric tramway, etc., the tunnels beneath to be lighted by electricity, with stations at intervals to accommodate river traffic. The estimated cost is $100,000,000.
